The Limit Order 2020 sets out the maximum limit of protection for each Protected Benefit.

The Limit Order 2020 is to be read together with the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020. An infographic on the scope and limits of protection is set out in Appendix 1.

Enhancements in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020 and Limit Order 2020

4. What are the objectives of the enhancements?

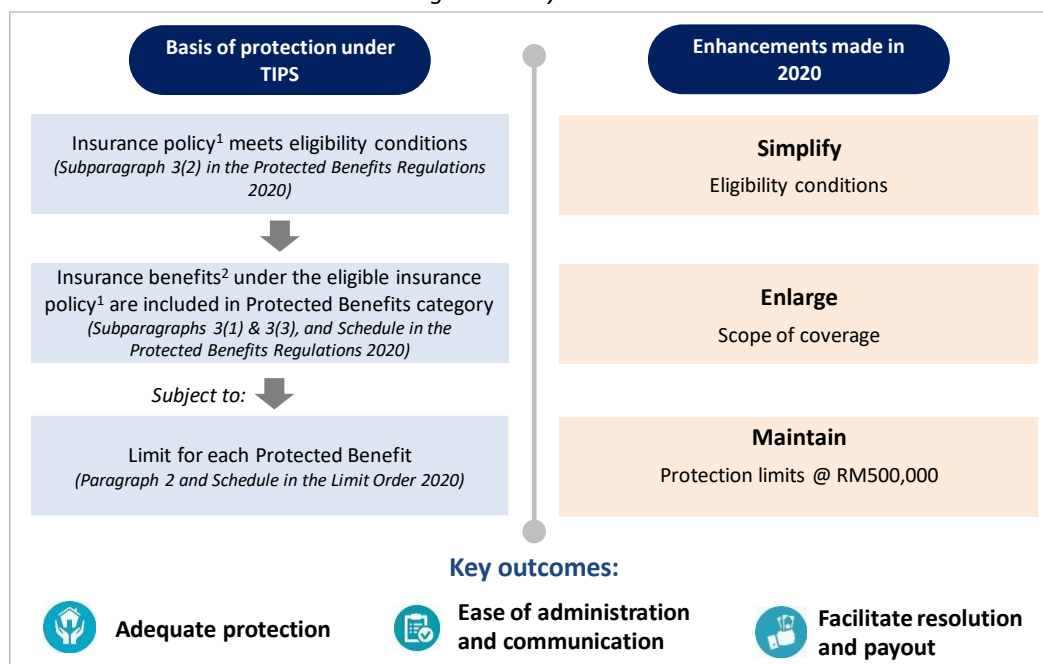

The objectives are to:

- (a) ensure that the scope and limits of protection remain current and provide sufficient level of protection to certificate or policy owners, given the continuous innovation in product offerings; and
- (b) facilitate understanding by the consumers about TIPS protection and limits as well as by insurer members (“IMs”) of PIDM’s requirements relating to the scope and limits of protection through simpler and less granular coverage rules. Better understanding by IMs will facilitate implementation of the new disclosure requirements on Protected Benefits.¹

5. What are the key enhancements made in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020 and Limit Order 2020?

The key enhancements are set out in Diagram 1.

Diagram 1: Key enhancements

1) Insurance policy includes takaful certificate

2) Insurance benefits include takaful benefits

Details are explained in subsequent paragraphs.

¹ More details on the new disclosure requirements will be communicated once they are issued.

GENERAL TAKAFUL AND GENERAL INSURANCE BUSINESS

Eligibility conditions

6. What are the eligibility conditions for protection under TIPS [Subparagraph 3(2) in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020]?

Ringgit Malaysia (RM) denominated takaful certificate and insurance policy (“certificate and policy”) issued in Malaysia by the IMs and reported to Bank Negara Malaysia as “Malaysian takaful certificate” or “Malaysian policy”, are eligible for protection under TIPS.

The enhancement aims to streamline with reporting by the IMs to Bank Negara Malaysia. The streamlining of the eligibility conditions with the definitions of “Malaysian takaful certificate” or “Malaysian policy” under the Islamic Financial Services Act 2013 or Financial Services Act 2013, aims to minimise administrative burden on the IMs, and facilitate communication to the public on TIPS protection.

7. What are the enhancements made to the eligibility conditions in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020?

A comparison of eligibility conditions specified in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020 and the repealed Protected Benefits Regulations 2011 is set out in Table 1 below.

Table 1: Eligibility conditions for general takaful and general insurance business

	Protected Benefits Regulations 2011	Protected Benefits Regulations 2020

Protected benefits

8. What types of takaful or insurance benefits that are protected under TIPS (Subparagraphs 3(1) & 3(3), and Schedule in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020)?

For general takaful and general insurance business, almost all takaful and insurance benefits under a certificate and policy are protected. The only remaining benefits not protected are:

- (a) benefits under certificate or policy denominated in foreign currency; and
- (b) benefits under certificate or policy issued out of Malaysia.

The enhancements aim to provide greater clarity and certainty about takaful or insurance benefits protected by PIDM.

9. What are the enhancements made to the Protected Benefits category in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020?

A comparison of Protected Benefits category specified in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020 and the repealed Protected Benefits Regulations 2011 is set out in Table 2 below.

10. What are examples of takaful or insurance benefits protected under each Protected Benefit category?

The list of examples is set out in Appendix 2.

PIDM wishes to highlight that:

- (a) the examples provided in the list are not exhaustive, and meant to provide illustration on the takaful or insurance benefits for each Protected Benefit category; and
- (b) the Protected Benefits under TIPS are subject to the terms and conditions of the certificate or policy contract issued by the IMs. The benefits would therefore not be protected under TIPS if it falls under an exclusion in the certificates or policies issued by the IMs.

The list will be updated from time-to-time. We welcome feedback from the IMs on the examples provided in the list.

11. With the expansion of scope of protection, what are the examples of takaful or insurance benefits that are now protected under TIPS?

Benefits that are protected under TIPS with effect from 1 January 2021 include:

- (a) loss in relation to intellectual property;
- (b) damage to unique property, such as tree, livestock, crop; and
- (c) consequential loss due to damage to property, such as loss of gross profit or increased cost of working arising from loss of or damage to a property.

12. With the enhancements, are there any takaful or insurance benefits that are not protected under TIPS?

Yes. As stated in question 8 above, benefits that are not protected include:

- (a) benefits under certificate or policy denominated in foreign currency; and
- (b) benefits under certificate or policy issued out of Malaysia.

13. What are the limits of protection under TIPS [Paragraph 2 and Schedule in the Limit Order 2020]?

Eligibility conditions

15. What are the eligibility conditions for protection under TIPS [Subparagraph 3(2) in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020]?

Ringgit Malaysia (RM) denominated certificate and policy issued in Malaysia by the IMs and reported to Bank Negara Malaysia as “Malaysian takaful certificate” or “Malaysian policy”, are eligible for protection under TIPS.

The enhancement aims to streamline with reporting by the IMs to Bank Negara Malaysia. The streamlining of the eligibility conditions with the definitions of “Malaysian takaful certificate” or “Malaysian policy” under the Islamic Financial Services Act 2013 or Financial Services Act 2013, aims to minimise administrative burden on the IMs, and facilitate communication to the public on TIPS protection.

16. What are the enhancements made to the eligibility conditions in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020?

A comparison of eligibility conditions specified in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020 and the repealed Protected Benefits Regulations 2011 is set out in Table 4 below.

3.	The certificate or policy is denominated in Ringgit Malaysia.	Retain

² The enhancement would not change the underlying criteria in determining whether a family certificate or life policy meets the eligibility condition. It is merely a change in the description of the eligibility condition, to maintain consistency of eligibility conditions for family or life insurance benefits with general takaful or insurance benefits.

Protected benefits

17. What types of takaful or insurance benefits that are protected under TIPS (Subparagraphs 3(1) & 3(3), and Schedule in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020)?

- For investment-linked certificate or policy, misfortune benefits (for example, death and disability benefits) continue to be protected whether the benefits are payable from the unit or non-unit (risk) portion of the certificate or policy. However, maturity benefits, surrender benefits and income benefits that are payable from the unit portion of investment-linked certificate or policy continue to be excluded from the coverage.

18. What are the enhancements made to the Protected Benefits category in the Protected Benefits Regulations 2020?

A certificate or policy owner is eligible to claim value of that family takaful certificate or value of that life policy, where applicable, as a debt due to him by the IM where a certificate or policy ceases to be in force as of the date of the winding up order.
